Bathtub designed by Matteo Thun and Antonio Rodriguez for RAPSEL

Inspired by the Japanese bath that serves in particular as a treat to relax and recuperate from the daily routine. Matteo Thun and Antonio Rodriguez have created a new bathtub with an European form: 'Ofurò'. Ofurò's puristic form allows complete emersion; material and composition convey calm and warmth. ,Ofurò' captures all the principles of a harmonious and relaxing bath.

The new bathtub is produced entirely from larch wood – even the plug. It is dried in several work steps and cut, shaped and joined together in a special procedure. The clean design is pared down to the essentials and harmoniously emerges out of the wood grain. ,Ofurò' is haptic, visual and comfortable: one of a kind.

'Ofuro' is a mirror of what we call No-Design!
